Workshop

Possibilities of Simulation – Gamification, Deliberate Practice, and More!

Description: In this simulation gamification workshop, participants will engage in a Live.Die.Repeat deliberate practice simulation scenarios and practice designing simulation scenarios for this simulation methodology.

The session will delve into the use of simulation as a tool across our health services and understanding the variation of scenario design, delivery and debriefing to support the goals of the simulation. From learner-focused simulation to translational simulation, we will explore the potential of simulation to transform our health services.

Join us to gain valuable insights and practical skills in utilising gamification and deliberate practice to enrich the learner experience. Let's be inspired by the potential of translational simulation to impact our health services.
